

GRADUATE FLAGSHIP SCHEME

HOTEL OFFICER CADETSHIP

Opportunities of a lifetime

It takes inspirational leaders to run an organisation such as ours, and we are looking to develop the next generation for Cunard Line and P&O cruises to take forward our 180 year heritage.

Offering exceptional guest experience is at the heart of what we do. You will be joining an exciting yet complex operation that delivers daily across the globe in a unique environment. We have designed your rotations with that in mind, so expect a uniquely challenging programme intended to give you a solid grounding in managing our latest shipboard department - Hotel.

The Hotel Officer Cadetship is a graduate programme of distinct opportunity. We're looking to shape our future Hotel General Manager and this takes time. You will travel the world, and experience the challenge that comes with it, becoming adept at working remotely and managing large scale operations on an international platform.

HOW THE PROGRAMME WORKS

This programme consists of four, 4 month rotations onboard one of our impressive ships but there will be times where you will be required to work at our Head Office in Southampton. Rotations are based primarily across the following departments*:

Activity	Duration (up to)	Hotel
Onboarding	3 weeks	Induction, Training, STCW (Personal Safety Training)
Rotation 1	4 months	Housekeeping
Leave	2 months
Carnival House	2 weeks	Leadership Development
Rotation 2	4 months	Food & Beverage
Leave	2 months
Carnival House	2 weeks	Leadership Development
Rotation 3	4 months	Hotel Operations
Leave	2 months
Carnival House	2 weeks	Leadership Development
Rotation 4	4 months	Entertainments & Specialisation

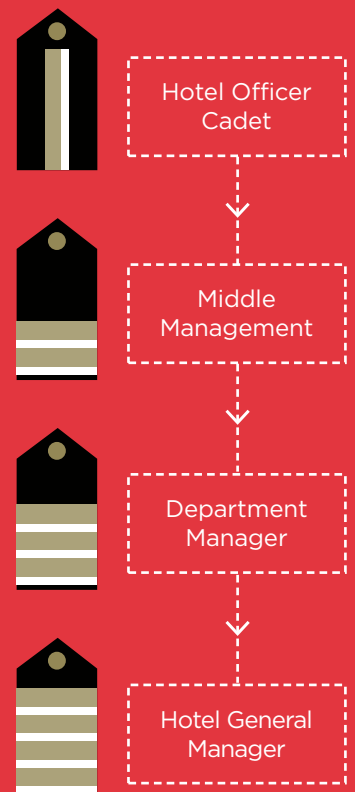

You'll learn what it takes to deliver and manage our operation at all levels - and you'll learn from everyone. During each rotation, you'll undertake the jobs in the department, then act as a real life supervisor managing your own section or department. You will also complete several business projects, presenting back your findings and recommendations to our ship and shore Senior Management Teams.

*Rotation plans may change from time to time, and according to operational needs.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Two year programme
- Four rotations
- 2.1 degree required

CAREER PATH

WHERE NEXT AFTER THE PROGRAMME

This programme is unique. You will emerge having undertaken the main jobs on board as well as supervising various sections and departments. Once you've successfully completed your programme, you'll be appointed to a suitable hotel officer role at 'two stripe' middle management level. Our hotel department is large and the opportunities varied so we'll work closely with you to identify your strengths and interests to place you accordingly.

With experience and high performance, you'll move through the ranks to become a senior hotel officer. This would typically be a Head of Department role with responsibility for several hundred people and a significant budget. From there, with rounded senior officer experience, the next step is Hotel General Manager.

Our ships have up to 4,300 guests onboard with facilities and service appropriate to delivery of an exceptional guest experience. You will find up to 1350 crew and officers on-board, around 85% of whom work in the hotel department. Our ships operate as multi-million pound businesses in their own right, with the Hotel General Manager holding ultimate responsibility for all operations and financial performance relating to the Hotel department. It is a role like no other, with substantial responsibility and real accountability as part of the on-board Senior Management Team.

After Hotel General Manager, our top talent move on to senior manager roles shoreside at Director level, with progression beyond for the very best. We actively promote from within, and look to build lasting relationships with our people as part of our family.

You'll travel the world, and experience the challenge that comes with it, becoming adept at working remotely and managing large scale operations on an international platform.

IS THE PROGRAMME RIGHT FOR YOU?

We are looking for resilient, quick thinking, guest focused people who have an eye for detail and enjoy leading others. The roles we offer will suit a person who enjoys the unexpected, who has a real pride in our company along with a high degree of commercial acumen. You will need to have a minimum 2:1 degree.

You must have unrestricted rights to work and reside in the UK. As the role involves working at sea, you will need to obtain and maintain the appropriate Maritime and Coastguard Agency medical clearance. You will also be required to pass background and security checks and obtain a United States C1/D seafarer visa. The company meets all reasonable costs involved in obtaining your medical and visa.
